INTER-HOUSE COMPETITION

The Blue Memorial Shields were presented to the School by Mrs. Blue in memory of her husband, Mr. James Blue, who was principal teacher of English from 1931 to 1941. The names of the winning Houses, Boys and Girls, and the names of the respective Captains are inscribed annually on the Shields.

Each pupil, on entering the Secondary Department, is allocated to a House and remains a member of that House throughout his or her School career. It is evident that the Houses will not remain of the same numerical strength, but this disadvantage is neutralised by the method of scoring in the competition. Two main principles are followed in this scoring method: work and games have exactly the same bearing on the result and the performance of every pupil in some cases and of as many as possible in all other cases affects the ultimate decision. For the result in School work, the average place per class is the dominating factor and the merit places of first, second and third is a secondary factor.

Rugby and Hockey, followed by Cricket and Girls' Tennis, are given most weight in the Games section, but Athletics, Swimming, Golf and Boys' Tennis are included. School awards of caps and colours, regular places in 1st and 2nd Teams, House Matches, Championships, Certificates of Attainment (e.g. swimming certificates) are all considered in deciding the best House in any session.
